Labor Troubles at Mines Postponed

After a conference last week between officers of the Empire Steel & Iron Co. and a committee of Local 267, Western Federation of Miners, the local accepted the suggestion of the company that it postpone action on its demands for an increase of seventy-five cents a day until another conference could be held two weeks hence. The miners had asked that the demands become effective September 1.

Company officials told the men that because of the present condition of the pig iron market they did not think that the demands could be granted. Union men declared that they would adhere to their demands and would walk out if the conference to be held two weeks from now does not result in a satisfactory agreement.

Plenty of Game for Hunters This Fall

New Jersey sportsmen are looking forward to one of the biggest upland gunning seasons in recent years as a result of encouraging signs of a plentifulness of game in all rural sections of the State. Farmers in several counties report that they never have seen rabbits and quail more plentiful than they are this year. Autoists tell of having to dodge covies of birds by day and rabbits by night on country roads.

Because of the open winter last year, all game weathered through with little loss. Conditions during the spring and early summer were unusually favorable for the growth of young birds and rabbits, while the State's well enforced protective laws have brought about a practical conservation of game for fall shooting.

The Point of View

NEW JERSEY SHOULD RATIFY THE FEDERAL SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

BECAUSE it is in accordance with the law. The constitution of the United States provides that when an amendment shall have received the votes of two-thirds of the members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives, it shall be referred to the Legislatures of the several States for ratification, and when three-quarters of them shall have voted to ratify it, it shall become the law of the land. The eighteen previous Amendments have all been ratified in this way.

BECAUSE a referendum, to the voters would not be legally binding upon the Legislature, although it would cost the State as much money, and the suffragists as much time and effort as if it were a binding referendum.

BECAUSE a real referendum is to be taken this Fall, when the voters vote for candidates who favor or oppose woman suffrage. The suffragists will inform the voters how every candidate stands upon this question.

BECAUSE the election laws of New Jersey make inadequate provision for safe-guarding the vote of special elections. In 1915 the election was held on a registration day, and thousand of men voted immediately after registering, thus giving no opportunity for checking up their addresses or right to vote. The police canvass before general election that year removed from the books as "illegally registered" the names of thousands of men, but all of those men had had an opportunity to vote on the suffrage amendment.

Horse Electrocutted In the Street at Belvidere

Oscar Boyer, a business man of Belvidere, on Monday lost a valuable horse and was considerably shocked himself when his horse came in contact with a live electric wire just as he was driving out of Belvidere. Mr. Boyer was driving to Bridgeville, where he owns a coal business. Another team had just driven over the wire dangling in the street, and Mr. Boyer supposed it was a dead wire. His horse stepped on the wire and was instantly electrocuted.

Mr. Boyer attempted to examine his horse after it fell and was also badly shocked by the electric current. An investigation developed that the live wire had been down on the highway for some time and that numerous horses had been driven over it without coming in direct contact.

Squire L. Headley Weds Miss Zillah M. Hogan

The wedding of Miss Zillah M. Hogan, of Oak Ridge, and Squire L. Headley, of Milton, took place last Saturday evening at the Fichter homestead in Oak Ridge, the home of the bride. Rev. Schluetter officiated and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, F. A. F. Hogan.

The best man was Norman S. Spargo, of Mount Fern, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. A. F. A. Hogan was matron of honor while the bridesmaids were Miss Edna Headley, a sister of the bridegroom, and Jessie L. Jenkins, a cousin, of Dover. The ushers were Addison and Harold Augustine, of Hockensack, cousins of the bride.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Esther Headley, widow of the late Edward Headley. He served in France with the Eighty-Seventh Division as a musician. A reception followed the ceremony and the couple left on a

Can You Afford That Bad Back?

Nowadays, to be half crippled with a lame, aching back is mighty expensive. If you suffer with constant back-ache, feel lame, weak and all-played out; have dizzy, nervous spells and fits of "blues"—look to your kidneys. You can't do a full day's work without well kidneys and a sound, strong, back. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands of workers. Ask your neighbor!

A New York Case

David McAllister, 19 John St., Akron, N. Y., says: "Last winter while doing some heavy work my kidneys began to bother me considerably. My back felt so lame and tired that I couldn't do anything properly. Black specks appeared before my eyes and caused me constant trouble. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, as I had used them years before. Immediately the pain and lameness in my back went away. One box of Doan's entirely cured me."

Remarkable Conviction.

Nine-year-old Edith insisted on playing with her three-year-old sister's doll. Her grandmother tried to argue with her. "Why, you're such a big girl—so much older than your sister," she said. "Don't you think for that reason alone you should not want her new doll so much?"

Edith looked at grandmother. "Oh, I don't know," she returned carelessly. "You're a lot older than mother and yet you want her new baby all the time."

The occasional use of Roman Eye Balsam at night upon retiring will prevent and relieve tired, watery eyes, and eye strain. Adv.

Worse Than Flu.

My brother, while en route to Camp Pike, Ark., exchanged addresses with a young woman in Chattanooga. Soon after reaching camp he wrote her that quarantine was all over camp. In her answer she said she hoped quarantine was not so bad as "flu" and that he would not have it.—Exchange.

Praying for All Men

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE
Moody Bible Institute,
Chicago

TEXT—I exhort therefore, that prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men.—1 Tim. 2:1.

The importance of prayer as a preparation is seen when we consider the nature of the work.

The task before us is to convince men that they are lost, and to persuade them to confess their sin and surrender their lives to the Lord Jesus Christ. It is easy to show a thief or a drunkard that he is a sinner, and needs salvation; but it is not easy to persuade a respectable, moral man that he is a sinner simply because he has not accepted Christ as his Savior. Sin is so subtle, and the human heart so stubborn, that only the Holy Spirit can make one see that unbelief is the crowning sin of all.

The common idea is that work is the main business of the Christian, and a little prayer is necessary to help the work along. Christ's idea is entirely different. In his thought prayer is our chief business, with just enough work to make a channel through which the spiritual forces generated by prayer may find an outlet.

Prayer is the bow that supplies the force and work is the feather that guides the arrow to its destination. "If ye shall ask—I will do," he says. In other words, Christ is still doing the work that he "began to do" (Acts 1:1), and he invites us to help him by prayer, whereas too many Christians think that they are carrying on the work, but need a little help from him. What your idea is may best be determined by estimating the amount of time you spend in working for the Lord and the amount spent in prayer.

PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 13:31-33, 44-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness.—Matt. 6:33.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Obeying our king.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A message of the king.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The growth of the kingdom.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The extent of the kingdom.

I. The Parable of the Mustard Seed (v. 31, 32).

Three things mainly occupy our attention in this parable:

1. Its unimportant beginning. It begins as the least of all seeds and grows to be the greatest among herbs. The king was of ordinary parentage and humble circumstances. He selected unlettered fishermen as his royal advisers. The prophet had said concerning him that he would be "despised," "rejected," "forsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."
2. Its vigorous growth. From these small beginnings Christ's influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence equal in greatness to that of Christendom.
3. Its lodging capacity.

The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church. The birds constitute so part of the tree, while the believer becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter and wait to pluck off the tender buds, or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In Christ's interpretation (v. 10) he said that the fowls represent the wicked ones. He who would make the lodgers here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. The same Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

II. The Parable of the Leavened

Silence sometimes gives consent and sometimes it gives offense.

Widows and spinsters naturally oppose men who do not propose.

What is Castoria

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-Good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. Hard to Guess Why.

Wonder why a splinter can never remember anything that happened a good many years ago?

Japs See Need of Good Roads.

Leading citizens of Tokyo have recently organized a society to back good roads.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1600 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other, in sealed boxes, three sizes.

RATIO MAKES FOR HARMONY

Peculiar Arrangement of Chinese Musical Instruments Said to Be Work of Chinese Emperor.

The characteristic musical instrument of the Chinese is a series of bamboo tubes, the longest of which measures about nine inches, and of which the remainder diminish in length at a regular ratio, each being just two-thirds the length of the one before. This arrangement was devised by the Chinese—they say, by the Emperor Huang-Ti—on the following principle: Between heaven and earth there is per-

He Did but He Didn't.

Carl Elsenkschmel, one of the police department's handwriting experts, was on the witness stand, and the attorney for the defendant was more or less deeply interested in proving that as a handwriting expert, Elsenkschmel was a mighty fine bricklayer.

"Now, Elsenkschmel," he asked, "have you ever made a mistake?"

"Yes, I have," the witness replied.

"Ah," the attorney snapped. "Tell us when you made a mistake."

"I never made one," said the handwriting expert, "but I don't like to hear a man say he's infallible. So put it down on the record—Elsenkschmel never made a mistake."
